History of Atlanta Chapter

Daughters of American Revolution

The National Society, D. A. R., was organized in Washington, D. C., Oct. 11, 1890, with eighteen members. Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, President General.

The first chapter organized was the Chicago Chapter, March 20, 1891.

The Atlanta Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was organized on April 15, 1891. Mrs. Henry R. Jackson was elected Regent.

The historic pre-eminence of the Atlanta Chapter as the second Chapter in the National Society, as well as the first in Georgia, warrants some mention of those who took part in its organization. Mrs. Martha Berrien Duncan, of Atlanta, had been appointed "Honorary Regent for Georgia," and had been requested to organize a Chapter.

At the request of Mrs. Duncan and Miss Junia McKinley, the following ladies met at the home of Mrs. Duncan: Mrs. Henry Jackson, Mrs. Hoke Smith, Mrs. McKinley Bussey, Miss Sarah Francis Grant (now Mrs. John M. Slaton), Mrs. Samuel Scott, Mrs. Porter King, Mrs. Jane L. Byers, Mrs. Robert E. Brown, Mrs. Hugh Hagan, Mrs. William Lawson Peel, all of whom, with Mrs. Duncan and Miss McKinley, our organizing Regents, constitute the charter members.

The Chapter was fortunate in securing Mrs. Jackson for the first Regent, and the work in Atlanta progressed quickly under her leadership, and when Mrs. Salas resigned her office as state Regent in 1892, Mrs. Jackson was elected to this high office. Miss Junia McKinley was elected secretary and rendered great service as a genealogist and aided many Daughters in establishing their eligibility for membership in the Society.

Other early members were Mrs. F. H. Orme, Mrs. Francis Block, Mrs. Wm. M. Dickson, Mrs. Albert Cox, Mrs. H. M. Patty, Mrs. A. J. Orme, Mrs. J. G. Scrutchin, Miss Aurelia Roach, Miss Nena Mitchell, Mrs. Alex Hopkins, Mrs. Reed Boylston, Mrs. John B. Gordon, Mrs. Frances Gordon Smith and Mrs. W. M. Leyden.

The first member of the Atlanta Chapter to hold the office of Vice-President General was Mrs. Hugh Hagan (now Mrs. Lucien Cocke).

Mrs. William M. Dickson served as Regent twice, 1892 and 1894-1895. It was principally through her efforts that Mr. George W. Collier donated the lot on which our present Chapter House stands. During 1892 only historical and social work was accomplished; 1894, the Chapter found it necessary to aid in the social affairs of the Exposition. The Woman's Department of the Exposition, on the suggestion of Mrs. W. L. Peel, invited the Colonial Dames and Daughters of the American Revolution to visit Atlanta. Daily sessions were held in the Women's Building. Brilliant receptions were given at Concordia Hall, Kimball House—a theater party at the Grand, filling the boxes and lower floor, also luncheons at the Virginia Tea Room. These social affairs given by the Atlanta Chapter have never been surpassed by any entertainments of Atlanta Daughters.

Mrs. Frank Orme held the office of Regent in 1893, serving one year. There was much enthusiasm and many additions to the membership. Our first meetings were held at private homes, but as we grew, we were invited to meet at the State Capitol by Captain Milledge, the Librarian. He was always an interested friend of our organization and was himself a son of the Revolution.

We became interested in the study of American History, our ancestry, and in all that went to make up our great republic.

One of the most interesting enterprises which our Chapter undertook, was to raise a sum of money for patriotic purposes. This was a Colonial Ball. Mrs. William Lawson Peel, chairman, was at that time a member of our Chapter. She managed it with her usual cleverness and it was most successful. Mr. Paul Jones personated Gen. George Washington. Mrs. Cocke, now of Virginia, formerly Mrs. Sallie Johnson Hagan, personated Mrs. Washington. The military contingent from Ft. McPherson lent their presence to the occasion, which added much to its brilliancy.

The ball opened with a grand march, the minuet was danced. About two hundred dollars was realized, which was devoted to patriotic purposes.

At our next meeting, Mrs. Joseph Morgan offered a resolution that all moneys hereafter made by our Chapter should be held for the purpose of providing a Chapter House. The resolution was received and passed with much enthusiasm.

Mrs. Morgan was appointed Chairman of the Building Committee, an office which she most successfully filled. She worked so ably on that line that we now have our present home of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Frank Orme, Mrs. I. Y. Sage, Mrs. Joseph H. Morgan were appointed to attend to the details of a reception at Mrs. Dickson's home. To this reception, given in honor of Governor Greenhalge and staff, were invited the Governor and staff of Pennsylvania, Governor and staff of New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and many other distinguished visitors in Atlanta.

On December, 1895, came the news, "Hon. William Lovering will arrive to present the Massachusetts Building to the Atlanta Chapter." This gift gave the Chapter much prominence throughout the country, also interesting our own citizen, Mr. George Washington Collier, who donated the lot on which our new Chapter House stands on Piedmont Avenue.

In connection with the gift of Craigie House, many other gifts were added. Library Exposition Committee, Mrs. Porter King Chairman, gave all the books written by women; the Cooking School Department, Mrs. A. V. Gude, all the chairs (these were sold and added to the building fund); Virginia committee, book cases and memorial plates. Miss Longfellow gave her father's chair and many small and attractive gifts were given from other state exhibits.

In 1896 Mrs. Dickson was elected Vice-President General.

Mrs. Porter King, a charter member, was elected Regent in 1895, serving two years. The great Exposition had closed two months before, and in order to interest the women in this organization, Mrs. King prepared a course of study on Revolutionary History, principally on Georgia. It was not long before our attendance increased. Much pleasure and profit resulted, and a number of fine papers were read before the Chapter at various times. The course was continued through the Regency of Mrs. Byers.

Another matter requiring immediate attention was the classifying, shelving and properly protecting our library. The three hundred volumes, many of them autograph copies, had been given Mrs. King by different publishers and authors. In this way "Craigie House" became the home of the nucleus of a growing, as well as a circulating library. Other gifts Mrs. King was able to make to the Chapter were the two plaques of historic Boston, which had been given her by a member of the Massachusetts delegation.

The heaviest work undertaken at this time was the carrying through the D. A. R. edition of the Journal, which had before been contracted for—$250.00 realized from the undertaking enabled us to buy and move one of the smaller Exposition buildings to our grounds and equip it for a caretaker's home; also to properly repair and meet the expense of the upkeep of the Chapter House. As Regent and as a member of the jury of award of the Nashville Exposition, Mrs. King attended officially the large D. A. R. Congress held in that city.

Mrs. King was elected State Regent in 1896. Largely through her influence "Meadow Garden," the home of Governor Walton in Augusta, was purchased by the National Society.

Mrs. Jane L. Byers, one of the best and most beloved educators of Georgia, served as Regent for the year 1897.

At this time the Confederate Reunion was held in Atlanta, attended by Miss Winnie Davis, the Daughter of the Confederacy. The Chapter, Miss Junia McKinley, chairman, entertained the veterans at luncheon for three days.

Miss Junia McKinley and Mrs. E. H. Barnes did splendid work at the Fort McPherson hospital during the Spanish-American War.

Mrs. William Greene Raoul was elected to the Regency of the Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., in January, 1899, and it was at this meeting that a request from the National Association was read, asking our Chapter to contribute to the statue of LaFayette in Paris. A resolution was passed granting this expenditure, and since that time the Americans in Paris have joined with the French in decorating the statue.

At this time on motion of Mrs. Peel a resolution was passed to copy the Revolutionary records. The first conference of the Georgia Society was held at Craigie House on May 24, 1899. Reception were given by Mrs. William Green Raoul, Mrs. John M. Slaton and Mrs. Helen Reed, Regent of the Piedmont Continental Chapter. The question of moving Craigie House to Piedmont Avenue was discussed but nothing done.

On account of leaving Atlanta for New York, Mrs. Raoul resigned the Regency, after serving a few months.

Mrs. John M. Slaton was elected Regent in 1899. A class to study Georgia history was organized with Mrs. Jane L. Byers, chairman. Resolutions of appreciation were passed by the Chapter for the work of Mrs. William Lawson Peel, who had secured the records of 7,000 Revolutionary soldiers from the hidden archives of Georgia.

Upon motion of Mrs. Joseph Morgan, the custom was established to appoint a standing committee to commemorate in the chapter all historical days of Georgia, as well as the twenty-second of February.

The Fourth of July was first celebrated here in 1900, Miss Virginia Hardin, chairman.

In September a program of historical study was arranged, Miss Lida Field, chairman.

Books and magazines were collected during this and succeeding months and sent to American soldiers in the Philippines, under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. H. Hill.

In September plans were made for the second State Conference to be held in Atlanta—the three other chapters being requested to form committees to co-operate.

On the eighth of October (1900) the names of Revolutionary soldiers, and other historical records, which had been procured through Mrs. Peel, at the expense of the Atlanta and Piedmont Continental Chapters, were formally presented to the State at the Executive Mansion.

A Twentieth Century Festival was suggested by Mrs. William M. Dickson. It was decided that the four chapters of Atlanta should co-operate in this entertainment, the proceeds of which were to be applied as follows. One-half to Continental Hall, one-fourth to Oglethorpe Monument, and one-fourth to be retained by local chapters for other patriotic purposes. An admission fee was charged and the Festival continued for several days with some special feature for each evening. The most interesting of these was a series of "Living Pictures" produced under the direction of Mrs. John B. Roberts.

During part of the winter the "Symphony Club" kindly extended the use of its hall to the Atlanta Chapter for meetings.

In 1901 Mrs. Frances E. Block was elected Regent. Desiring to follow the plans outlined by the State Regent, Mrs. R. E. Park, a year book was published by the Chapter. All the members took part in the discussions of papers read, adding interest and pleasure to the work thus begun. On account of illness in her family, Mrs. Block was unable to continue her work.

Mrs. Ira Yale Sage was elected Regent in 1902, serving two years. The Chapter then numbered 177 members. Patriotic days were observed. Mrs. Samuel Scott wrote a complete history of the Chapter, which was published in the American Monthly. Five historical pictures were presented by Miss Sallie Eugenia Brown to Craigie House.

Donations were made to Continental Hall, Meadow Garden, McKinley Monument and rebuilding Confederate Veterans' Home.

A luncheon was given by the four Chapters in Atlanta in honor of the delegates attending the meeting of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. A. McD. Wilson was elected Regent in 1903. At her suggestion, membership papers were bound in book form in two volumes.

Upon motion of Mrs. Edward H. Barnes, a medal was presented to the graduating class of the Girls' High School. This was presented by Mrs. W. P. Patillo.

A motion of Mrs. Julius L. Brown to commence a building fund was carried. $230.00 was collected during the Regency of Mrs. Wilson for this fund.

Mrs. Alice D. Chandler, one of our beloved members, a splendid educator and president of Washington Seminary, presented a scholarship in the Seminary to the Chapter. In recognition of this, a motion was passed that a gold medal should be given annually to the Seminary.

On April 15th, 1903, Mrs. Julius Brown called attention to the lot given to the Chapter by Mr. George W. Collier. Mrs. W. D. Ellis was appointed chairman for further investigation.

Mrs. W. D. Ellis was elected Regent in 1905, serving one year and refusing re-election. The principal event during her term of office was the finding of the deed to the lot on which Craigie House now stands, which was given the Chapter through Mrs. William Dickson by Mr. G. W. Collier. The legal paper, an accurate account of the lot, written by Judge W. D. Ellis, is now in the archives at the State Capitol.

Mrs. Thomas H. Morgan was elected Regent in 1906-1907. During the Regency of Mrs. Morgan, fifty dollars was given toward erecting a column in Continental Hall. Mrs. A. J. Smith was chairman of the building fund. "The Song of the Revolution," written by Dr. Francis Orme, was adopted by the Fifteenth Continental Congress as one of the national songs. Amount raised during the year $425.69, which added to amount previously set aside, was $919.42 for building fund.

The five Chapters together gave a Colonial Ball at the Kimball House and realized $170.00 for the erection of the Georgia column in Continental Memorial Hall.

During the visit of the Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks, a delightful reception was given at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Through many entertainments the building fund was increased.

The medal to Washington Seminary was presented by Mrs. E. P. McDowell Wolff, chairman.

In 1907 the Georgia D. A. R. were saddened by the death of Miss Junia McKinley, organizer of Atlanta Chapter.

A creditable display of relics was sent to the Jamestown Exposition.

The Chapter attended the unveiling of the General John B. Gordon statue at the State Capitol grounds. At this time the total sum for Craigie House was $919.42.

Mrs. S. W. Foster was elected Regent 1908-1909. During these years, the most important object was devising ways and means for building Craigie House. It was intended at this time to build the new Chapter House, a replica of Craigie House, Longfellow's home at Cambridge, Mass. $1,020.24 was turned over by Mrs. Thomas Morgan, the accumulation since 1903. In 1908 this fund was increased through various entertainments to $2,030.97.

During 1909 our old Craigie House in Piedmont Park was sold for $400.00, Mrs. F. S. Whiteside, chairman. Mr. and Mrs. George Hope were also largely instrumental in the sale of the property. The total for building fund in 1909 was $3,167.64.

Contributions were made annually to Martha Berry School and Continental Hall. The membership of the Chapter was greatly increased through the executive ability of the Regent. The meetings for the two years were held at her home. Later Mrs. Foster also served as State Regent and Vice-President General of the National Society.

Mrs. Joseph Morgan was elected Regent in 1910 and 1911. Circular letters were issued setting forth the work to be done, appointing committees and requesting each member to write a short sketch on some incident in Georgia history. Much praise has been given Miss Katherine B. Massey on her paper, "Naming the Counties of Georgia," published in full in National Conference Report, 1911, and which appears in this book.

Owing to increasing membership, a chapter house became the urgent wish of the members.

Mr. Henry Collier and Capt. Thomas Donaldson, in charge of state, county and city work, gave valuable aid in grading the lot. Mr. Sam Venable donated the corner stone. November, 1910, the Chapter was complimented by its Regent being asked to respond to addresses of welcome at the State Conference held in Savannah. December, 1910, the cornerstone was laid with the impressive ceremony of the Masons. Several state and ex-state D. A. R. officials were present.

Owing to financial condition, our contractor was forced to turn over to the Chapter an unfinished building. This placed the building committee in a serious dilemma. Too much appreciation cannot be given to Capt. George M. Hope, Judge J. N. Bateman and Major Joseph H. Morgan for the timely aid of money and work given to the Chapter.

Mrs. S. W. Foster gave the Memorial Window to Mrs. Martha Berrien Duncan and Miss Junia McKinley. Mrs. Eula Griffin and Mrs. Georgia McMichael placed memorial windows to their ancestors.

On June 14, 1911, the new Chapter House was opened.

June, 1911, the first event taking place in the Chapter House, was the attendance of the Washington Seminary Girls, who read their essays on the “Women of the Revolution.”

July 4th, 1911, a religious and patriotic service was held at St. Phillip's Cathedral, Bishop C. K. Nelson presiding.

October 10th, 11th and 12th, Mrs. Matthews T. Scott, President General, the guest of the Chapter, came to take part in unveiling the Peace Monument erected in Piedmont Park by the Gate City Guards of Atlanta.

The Chapter entertained the visiting soldiers from the North and South who were present for the unveiling of the Peace Monument.

Mrs. Samuel D. Jones was elected Regent in 1912. Through her efforts, the membership was increased by 133 members—34 of whom were life members.

The portrait of Mrs. Jane L. Byers, former Regent, was presented by her son, Mr. Tony Byers.

On Flower day, the first to be celebrated, the brass eagle knocker presented by Mrs. William Lawson Peel, Vice-President General, was placed on the Chapter House door. Mrs. E. P. McDowell Woolf planted ivy from General Lee's grave, and Mrs. E. L. Connally planted Japanese bamboo.

The Daughters of the Confederacy held their meetings for two months at the Chapter House. One more bound volume of papers was added.

The piano was bought through Mrs. John B. Roberts, chairman. Gas heaters were installed. Gifts were made to Berry School, Meadow Garden, Mary Hammond Washington bust, Emily Hendree Park Memorial and Continental Hall, and $628.21 was paid on the debt of the Chapter House. All special days were observed.

Mrs. James O. Wynn was elected Regent in 1913. The liquidation of the debt on the Chapter House was the main work of the Chapter during the year. Entertainments were given and arranged by Mrs. John B. Roberts, Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. E. D. Kennedy, Mrs. A. A. Little, Miss Nellie Bowen and Mrs. Charles Rice, chairman. Five copies of the Revolutionary Reader, compiled by Mrs. S. W. Foster, former Regent, were presented to schools. $518.25 was raised during the year and the last payment of $415.20 was paid on the Chapter House.

As the World War had begun in 1914, the D. A. R. responded to the call for the relief of the war sufferers. Forty-eight garments made of Georgia-made cloth were sent to Belgian children. Two hundred books and two book cases were given to the Girls' Night School, Mrs. Howard McCall, chairman. The medal was given to Washington Seminary and the scholarship at this school filled.

Improvement and repairs to Chapter House amounted to $81.50. Donations were made to all D. A. R. objects. A fund of $107.13 was raised by Mrs. John B. Roberts and Mrs. John M. Slaton, chairman. (This money was used during the regency of Mrs. Charles Rice for Red Cross work.)

Mrs. Joseph M. High was elected Regent in 1915. It was decided to remodel the interior of the Chapter House at a cost of $565.66. Later Mrs. High gave a new roof which was much appreciated. All meetings of the Executive Board and the "birthday party" were held at the home of the Regent. A Colonial Tea was given at the Chapter House, many wearing colonial costumes. A Greek play was given at "Wingfield," the beautiful country place of Mrs. John M. Slaton.

At the intersection of Peachtree and Fifteenth Streets is the fountain designed by Mr. W. T. Downing, given "In honor of the Atlanta Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution." The bronze tablet also bears the name of the organizing Regents, Mrs. Martha Berrien Duncan and Miss Junia McKinley. At the unveiling, Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, of Oglethorpe University, made an eloquent address, and Mr. Armistead, Mayor pro tem., accepted it for the City of Atlanta, both of them expressing great appreciation for the donor, Mrs. High.

Mrs. High suggested that a brief history of the Chapter with the lineage of all members be published. This met with the approval of the members and the work was completed and ready to be turned over for publication. At this time, however, it seemed a vital need that every available dollar be given to "war relief" or "Red Cross" work, so we delayed the printing of the book "until a more convenient season." For various purposes over twelve hundred dollars was given during the year. Mrs. High declined re-election.

Mrs. E. Bates Block was elected Regent in 1916. This report covers six months active regency of Mrs. E. Bates Block and six months of the administration of the Vice-Regent, Mrs. Charles F. Rice, a bereavement in the family of Mrs. Block requiring her resignation. The twenty-fifth birthday of the Chapter was celebrated at the home of the Regent with a reception.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, Vice-President General U. S. D. A. R., presented the Chapter a handsome bronze tablet from the U. S. battleship Maine.

Mrs. E. P. McDowell Wolff presented the D. A. R. medal for essays to the Georgia Tech School and the Regent presented a pin to the English Avenue school.

Benefits were given for the Lineage Book; readings by "Betsy Hamilton" and Mrs. Merrill Hutchinson. Donations were made to Martha Berry School, Mineral Bluff School and Meadow Garden.

Mrs. Block resigned in November and was succeeded by Mrs. Charles F. Rice, First Vice Regent.

Mrs. Charles F. Rice was elected Regent in 1917. The two years regency covered a period unequaled in history because war was declared April 6, 1917. Presentation of the flag February 18th to Boy Scouts was the first official act, then the Regent's receptions, Washington's Birthday and the Chapter's 26th Anniversary.

America's Creed, Allegiance Pledge and D. A. R. ritual were inaugurated. On May 22nd was organized the first Red Cross Auxiliary in Atlanta, and the Chapter House was tendered President Wilson for war work. Members were a unit Red Cross and gave two hundred thousand working hours. By invitation Joseph Habersham and Piedmont Continental Chapters did Red Cross work at our Chapter house.

We met all National, State and local obligations, sponsoring five camps. Mrs. Gordon Smith, Miss Isoline Campbell, Miss Mary Brown and Miss Essie Roberts served overseas.

The following chairmen assisted the Regent in war work: Chairmen of Board of Management were Mrs. John M. Slaton, 1917, Mrs. David Woodward, 1918; war relief, Mrs. S. W. Foster, 1917, Mrs. Bun Wylie, 1918; Fort McPherson, Mrs. Edward H. Barnes; Camp Gordon, Mrs. Bun Wylie; Red Cross, Mrs. William Hurd Hillyer, 1917, Mrs. I. O. Walker, 1918; aviators' vests, Mrs. John B. Roberts; education, Mrs. S. W. Foster; scholarships and medals, Mrs. Frances S. Whiteside; conservation, Mrs. Drury Powers; press, Miss Lilien Tidwell; reception, Mrs. W. R. Hoyt; house, Mrs. George Breitenbucher; knitting, Miss Mollie Bostick and Mrs. I. O. Walker; entertainment at Y. M. C. A. huts, Mrs. Robert Blackburn, Mrs. John Sage; mending at Camp Gordon, Mrs. C. L. Dean; Red Cross aprons, Miss Mary Rice; Children American Revolution, Mrs. A. W. Hodnett.

In appreciation of the marvelous work Mrs. Rice had accomplished, the Chapter gave her an elegant luncheon at the Capitol City Club. A beautiful loving cup was presented to her.

Mrs. David Woodward was elected Regent in 1919. During her absence from the city, the Vice-Regent, Mrs. Frances Whiteside, assumed active management of the Tilloloy fund—raising $200.00—which was donated for the reconstruction of this village in France, and $25.00 for a chicken farm in France.

Washington's Birthday and LaFayette Day were celebrated, Mrs. Whiteside and Mrs. Charles B. Walker, chairman. Mrs. John B. Roberts was chairman of entertainment and raised the money to carry on the work of the Chapter during the year.

Mrs. Bun Wylie continued as chairman at Camp Gordon and Mrs. E. H. Barnes at Fort McPherson. A picnic was given the boys at Ft. McPherson, and the Fourth of July was celebrated by all organizations joining in a Peace Parade at Piedmont Park.

Many historical papers were written and given the state reciprocity committee. A park tree was planted in Authors' Grove in Piedmont Park in honor of Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie. (The idea of having an "Authors' Grove" was inaugurated by Mrs. Wylie, President of the Writers' Club.)

One hundred and seven war records were compiled for the D. A. R. records of Georgia. 108 Red Cross knitted caps were given to the soldiers at Ft. McPherson who were gassed in the World War.

Americanization work was carried on under the chairman, Mrs. James L. Logan—$155.00 was given to the illiteracy campaign, ($50.00 donated by Miss Virginia Hardin for Bartow County), $45.00 to Serbian Relief and $35.00 to Armenian Relief.

The Chapter, with Mrs. Frances S. Whiteside, acting Regent, entertained at luncheon in October in honor of the Southern Confederate Memorial Association, during the Confederate Reunion. The Regent, Mrs. David Woodward, gave an elegant entertainment to the Chapter at her home on Peachtree.

Mrs. Whiteside, in the name of the Chapter, raised $450 for the Reunion of the Confederate Veterans.

Mrs. Elmer R. Kirk was elected Regent in January, 1920. Education and Americanization were stressed by the Chapter at this time. The Chapter House was rented to raise money for patriotic purposes. Mrs. Kirk entertained at her home on "Flag Day." Among other things on the interesting program was the singing of thirty Greek children. At this time the prize offered for the best historical paper read before the Chapter during the year was awarded to Mrs. John P. Womble. This was given by Mrs. High, state chairman of programs for study. All meetings of the Executive Board were held at the hospitable home of Mrs. Charles Davis.

In connection with the other local Chapters, D. A. R., we gave a luncheon in honor of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. This was held at the Chapter House. Mrs. C. B. Walker, our most efficient chairman, serving five hundred guests. Several eloquent addresses have been made by Dr. Sproule Lyons, Mr. Shepard Bryan, Dr. Porter, Professor Derry and others.

A donation of $500 was made to the "Loan Scholarship Fund," ($5,000.00 being raised by the State D. A. R.) to be placed at the University of Georgia in honor of our Georgia boys who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War. A scholarship, value $100, was made to Martha Berry School, also a donation to the Sarah E. Guernsey Scholarship Fund. The Sophie Lee Foster Scholarship Loan Fund was started, Mrs. Foster having raised $200.00.

A scholarship, value $100.00, was made to the Tomassee, S. C., D. A. R., Mrs. William A. Wright making the first payment of $25.00. Also $50 was raised for "Overseas Girls" for their hospital. Miss Lilien Tidwell, chairman.

The Chapter entertained Mrs. George Maynard Minor, President General of the National Society, D. A. R.; Mrs. John Laidlaw Buell, State Regent of Connecticut, and Mrs. Max E. Land, State Regent of Georgia.

Mrs. Kirk was again elected Regent in 1921. The Atlanta Chapter has invited the State D. A. R. as their guests for the twenty-fourth state conference in 1922.

Scholarship Work

The Scholarship Committee beginning in 1908, when Washington Seminary donated a full scholarship in literary tuition and also music, has now increased its scope to include fourteen scholarships valued at $1,430.00 annually. Mrs. McDowell Wolff was the first chairman and was followed by Mrs. Frances Smith Whiteside. Both of these chairmen did excellent work for the Chapter.

In 1917-18 eight scholarships were secured as follows: Mrs. Maybelle Shropshire Wall, music, Cox College, and Elizabeth Mather, literary tuition; Woodberry Hall, half literary tuition; Mr. Alfred Barili, full tuition in music; Atlanta Conservatory of Music, half tuition; Miss Eastlack, half tuition in expression; Draughon's Business College, half tuition. Mrs. Wall and Miss Eastlack discontinued their scholarships after the first year.

During the last three months seven scholarships have been added and in addition Miss Woodberry has increased to a full scholarship with a small stipend to be paid by the student. This method has been adopted by Elizabeth Mather and Cox College also. The Atlanta Conservatory reduced their scholarship to one-fourth and thinking it useless to carry a fourth scholarship, the board voted to pay a fourth rather than sever our connection with the Conservatory. The half tuition thus arranged was made a full scholarship by the donation of the other half by Miss Clara May Smith, teacher.

The first donation in a series of Memorial Scholarships was made by Mrs. John M. Slaton in memory of her mother and is known as the "Sarah Frances Reid Grant Scholarship," which provides full literary tuition in Agnes Scott College.

In addition the following scholarships have been donated: Lanier University, full literary tuition; Brenau, full tuition for one term on the violin; Miss Madeline Keipp, half tuition in piano; Atlanta Business College, two scholarships of half tuition; Southern Shorthand and Business University, one half tuition; Draughon's Business College, full tuition. These fourteen scholarships amount to $1,430.00 annually. We hope to add a number of memorial scholarships. A loan scholarship known as the "Sophie Lee Foster" Fund of $200 was raised by Mrs. S. W. Foster.

The Historic Gavel

The most precious relic owned by the Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., is a gavel made from a tree which grew by the grave of Patrick Henry. The gavel is exquisitely mounted with a design of silver grape vine with tendrils running around it, and tiny bunches of silver grapes.

It is the gift of Mrs. E. P. McDowell Wolff, one of our oldest and best beloved members, and herself a great niece of Patrick Henry.

Mrs. Wolff tells the following story:

"Red Hill, Charlton County, Virginia, was the home of the great American patriot, Patrick Henry. Here, after having retired from public life, he lived and here he died. It was the custom in Virginia in those days to set apart a quiet sequestered spot in the well-kept garden of the homes, as a place of interment. According to this custom, the body of Patrick Henry rests not more than a hundred yards from the house. A white marble monument of unique design marks his grave, and the inscription upon the stone, though brief, conveys a world of suggestion: 'His fame his best epitaph.'

"When as a girl of eighteen on a visit to Red Hill, his son, John Henry, gave me as a souvenir a piece of wood from a tree which for many years had stood like a sentinel guarding the mound of the illustrious dead. This memento was placed among my hoarded treasures. When I became a member of the D. A. R., it occurred to me that the best and most appropriate disposition I could make of this relic would be to have a gavel made of it and present it to the Atlanta Chapter, the second organized chapter in the United States. The gavel was presented at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Albert Cox, Mrs. William Dickson being regent. It met with a most grateful and gratifying reception. A few weeks after this meeting, the second Continental Congress was held in Washington. The delegates from the Atlanta Chapter were Mrs. W. M. Dickson, Mrs. W. L. Peel, Miss Julia McKinley, Mrs. Albert Cox and Mrs. Lucien Cocke, and the little gavel went with them and was used to call to order the convention of representative American women. Afterwards it was used by the distinguished Georgian, the late Charles R. Crisp, speaker of the national House of Representatives, who used it at the inauguration of President Grover Cleveland for his second term. It was again used at the first state conference of the D. A. R. of Georgia. It was also used at the inauguration of President Wilson.

"It was used at the opening of the first state conference in Virginia. It was used by Mrs. Fairbanks during her first conference in Washington. It was also used by ex-President Taft in the Atlanta Auditorium at the Peace Conference. It opened the first congress in the new memorial hall in Washington and was also used by Mrs. Donald McLean when she was the first President-General. Once more it returned to its native soil and its stroke opened to the world the gates of the Jamestown Exposition, not far distant from where the voice of Patrick Henry was raised in defense of the trampled rights of the colony."

The Memorial Fountain

By Dr. Lucien Lamar Knight.

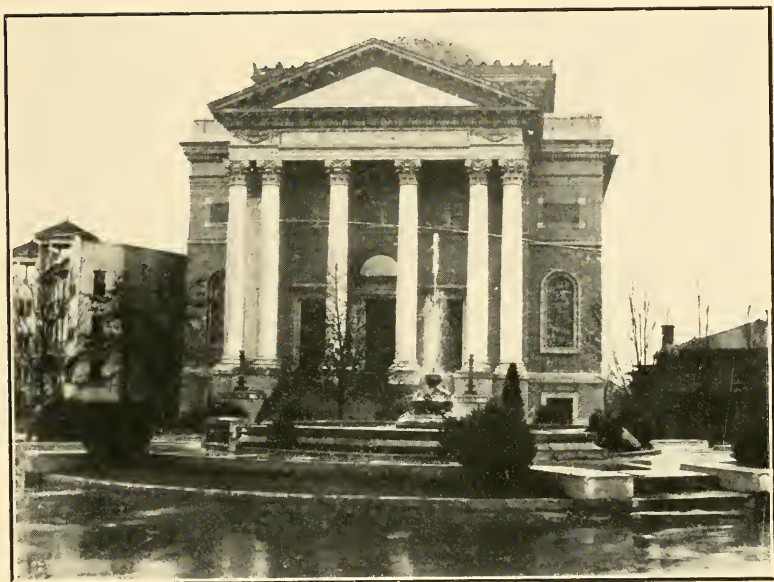

(Extract from an address delivered under the auspices of Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., at a Memorial Fountain, the gift of Mrs. Joseph M. High to the city of Atlanta and located at the intersection of Peach-tree and Fifteenth Streets during the regency of Mrs. Charles Rice.)

"Madame Regent: It was a beautiful thought of yours, to assemble us today around this memorial fountain, a thought pierced to the core with patriotism. We are glad to gather at this shrine—for such it is—the gift to our beloved city, of your former chapter regent, Mrs. Joseph Madison High. It is a gift worthy of the giver; and it worthily commemorates the devotion of that noble twain who founded your chapter—Junia McKinley and Martha Berrien Duncan, names musical from our lips and fragrant in our memories.

"Dedicated to the public service, this fountain is a visible exponent of the fine things for which you stand. To all the landscape it gives a beautifying touch, and like Tennyson's brook, it will ripple on forever. Its perennial waters bespeak the glad outgoings of our gratitude; and while it sings in plaintive measures of the absent ones whose smiles we miss today, its happier music tells of her who is with us still—still young.

"Long may she be spared to make this war-torn world forget its battles and to cast upon us all the lingering spell of an Indian summer. But, whether soon or late, the memory which she leaves behind her will be a benediction. It will ever haunt this spot, to kindle its refreshing anthems and to light the rainbows of its shining spray. Be it in the forest deep or on the mountain height, wherever we find the crumpled shell, it murmurs of its distant home in the ocean; and long after you and I and all of us are gone, this fountain will whisper of the mother-heart in which its crystal drops were cradled. It will set her life to music, and, in a thousand tender echoes, it will bring her back again."

A bronze tablet on the fountain bears the following inscription:

In honor of the Atlanta Chapter
Daughters of the American Revolution
Organized in 1891
by
Miss Junia McKinley—Mrs. Martha Berrien Duncan Erected by

The Counties of Georgia

By KATHERINE B. MASSEY

When I was a little girl, our fad was the possession of a charm-string. This was a string of buttons, obtained by coaxing from our elders or barter with each other, and constantly added to until some of them reached the length of several yards. With delightful pride we told over the list of our treasures. "This button," one would say, "came from Cousin Mary's wedding dress; this my Uncle John gave me; this was sent to me from China by my aunt who is a missionary in Canton. and this bright brass one was on my father's uniform during the war." Much of family life and many loving associations were thus strung together for the little maiden. In some such way, but in a larger sense, our state has used the naming of its counties as a cord of gold on which to hang traditions of its past, memories of its heroes, and reverence for those who helped us when help was needed.

A group of seven counties embalms the names of the Indian tribes who owned our hills and valleys before us, who hunted the deer with flint-headed arrows where now our cities stand, and threaded their trails in silent forests where today our cotton fields are spread. They are Catoosa, Chattahoochee, Chattooga, Cherokee, Coweta, Muscogee, Oconee—how musically the syllables fall upon the ear! It is like a chime of silver bells.

Four counties may be set together as commemorating large events in history, Columbia, Oglethorpe, Liberty and Union. The first of these was named for the dauntless sailor who, possessed with the faith which cared naught for all other men's unbelief and rising above poverty, discouragement, and mutiny, held his way westward over unknown seas to find his prophetic vision a reality. Oglethorpe bears the name of the brave soldier, courteous gentleman, and broad-minded philanthropist, who founded a colony for oppressed debtors to give them a new chance in life. Liberty county has a pretty little story of its own. A band of Massachusetts Puritans, seeking a milder climate, settled first in South Carolina, and not being fully satisfied, came on to St. John's Parish, Georgia. Their distinguished devotion to the cause of liberty in the perilous days of 1776-1783 gained for them that name when the parishes were changed into counties. Union county was so named because its citizens claimed to be known as Union men, when the rest of the state stood for states rights.

Another group of seven counties bears the name of English statesmen who spoke for us in the halls of Parliament and withstood the tyranny of king and nation in dealing with their brothers in America. They were the fiery-tongued orator Edmund Burke, the commoners Glynn and Wilkes, the Duke of Richmond, and the Earls of Chatham, Camden and Effingham.

Three other foreigners, lovers of liberty, drew sword and fought in our battles, side by side with our struggling heroes. Georgia has honored herself by naming counties for Baron DeKalb, Count Pulaski and General LaFayette.

Next comes the long muster-call of heroes whose names are written on the roll of fame as having fought for the freedom of their country—men whose names recall Bunker Hill and Valley Forge, King's Mountain and Guilford Court House, and all the grim experiences of a nation struggling for existence. Georgia has named counties for Baker, Bryan, Butts, Clarke (Gen. Elijah, who fought the Tories in our own state), Clinch, Early, Greene (Gen. Nathaniel, who settled on his grant of land in Georgia after the war), Jasper (the brave sergeant who leaped over the parapet to rescue the flag at Fort Moultrie), Laurens, Lee (Light Horse Harry, father of the grand general of the Civil War), Lincoln, Macon, Marion (the Swamp Fox of South Carolina), Meriwether, Montgomery, Morgan, Newton, Putnam, Screven,

Stewart, Sumter, Twiggs, Taliaferro, Warren (killed at the battle of Bunker Hill), Wayne (Mad Anthony), Wilkinson, Paulding, White, McIntosh—grand and glorious names that break upon the ear like a trumpet call, inspiring to deeds worthy to be ranked with theirs. The last of these names, McIntosh, was given in honor of a whole family which had contributed many sons to freedom's cause.

Seven presidents of the United States have given names to our counties. They are Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Polk, Taylor and Pierce.

The governors of Georgia have been a notable line, strong men of iron will, believers in state's rights and upholders of the dignity of the commonwealth. More than once they have withstood the national government. The list of them includes some names famous for other services to the state in the Revolution and the Civil War as well as in the halls of Congress. Those for whom counties are named are: Bulloch, Early, Elbert, Emanuel, Gilmer, Gwinnett, Habersham, Hall, Heard, Houston, Irwin, Jackson (soldier and statesman), Jenkins (who saved the seal of the state at the close of the Civil War and kept it until military rule was over and it could be returned to a governor legally elected by the people), Johnson, Lumpkin, Mitchell, Rabun, Schley, Stephens (giant soul in a frail body, whose unheeded counsels as vice-president of the Southern Confederacy might have prevented much of the bitterness that followed), Talbot, Telfair, Towns, Troup, Walton, Forsyth and Tattnall. Wisely and well they guided the ship of state and left a priceless heritage of precedent to their successors.

Georgia has named fourteen counties for statesmen of national fame—Calhoun, Clay, Webster—(these three made the great triumvirate whose eloquence shook the land in times when nullification and democracy were the questions of the day)—Bibb, Franklin, Brooks, Carroll, Douglas, Hancock (one of the first to lift his voice against British oppression in Massachusetts), Henry (the immortal orator of Virginia), Lowndes, McDuffie, Murray, and Randolph (quaint, eloquent, sarcastic John Randolph of Roanoke).

Of her own sons whose voices have thundered in the halls of Congress, or guided her councils at home, Georgia has named counties for Abram Baldwin (who first planned the state university), Ben Hill (of the trumpet tongue, who first dared to reply to northern slanders, to speak the truth about Andersonville, to show that we had not food, clothing or medicine for our own soldiers and that we did the best we could for the unfortunate prisoners who fell into our hands; claiming the respect of the nation and the world for the maligned Southern Confederacy), Berrien, Clayton, Cobb, Colquitt, Crawford (William H., our candidate for the presidency), Crisp, Campbell, Charlton, Dawson, Dougherty, Floyd, Haralson, Jones, Miller, Spalding, Turner, Walker and Ware.

Six of our counties bear the names of men who spent their lives fighting the Indians. They are Appling, Coffee, Butts, Wilcox, Thomas and Dade. Of the first of these the story is told that, in recognition of his services, the state voted him a sword with an appropriate inscription. Before it was ready for presentation the brave young soldier died. As he left no heir, the sword was kept in the state house at Milledgeville until that memorable autumn of 1864, when it disappeared. Some soldier of Sherman's army thus became richer and the State of Georgia poorer by a handsome sword.

The Mexican War left us the names of Echols, Fannin, Quitman and Worth. Other brave soldiers of the state who have been thus honored are Glascock, Milton, Pickens and Pike.

The Civil War gave to us the names of Bartow and Toombs. Francis S. Bartow said: "I go to illustrate Georgia," and fell on the field of the First Battle of Manassas. General Robert Toombs escaped from Georgia on his mare, Grey Alice, when every road and ferry was guarded by soldiers watching for him, made his way to England, and lived there until it was safe for him to return, remaining to the end of his life an "unreconstructed rebel."

Four counties, Dodge, Tift, Gordon and Upson, are named for captains of industry. The United States Navy gave us the name of Decatur. Banks and Terrell are called for two beloved physicians who made their names blessed in the homes of the people for the alleviation of pain and the saving of life. In both cases the name was chosen for the county by the citizens, in loving recognition of the physician's services.

The Lost Cause left with us the name of its one president, and we who are glad that it is the Lost Cause, that slavery is no longer an institution in our midst and that Georgia takes her rightful place in the sisterhood of states, nevertheless we claim the right to cherish our memories, to welcome Dixie with the rebel yell, to cover our graves with flowers on the twenty-sixth of April, to look back through a mist of tears to Gettysburg and Appomattox, and to call one of our counties Jeff Davis.

The noble preacher, Whitfield, who helped to establish the Bethesda Orphan's Home, gave his name to one county; and Henry Grady, silver-tongued and golden-hearted orator who helped to heal the wounds of war and drew together the North and the South into renewed brotherhood, is remembered in the name of another. Rockdale is so called from its granite rocks and wooded dales. One is named for Robert Fulton, the inventor, one for Harris, a prominent jurist, and last of all, Georgia has named one county for a woman—red-headed, cross-eyed, Tory-hating, liberty-loving Nancy Hart.

NOTE: The list of members of the Executive Board from 1891 to 1921 is furnished by Mrs. Howard McCall. The credit for compiling the history of the chapter from the Regents' reports is due largely to Mrs. Joseph H. Morgan.

Mrs. John Murrell, Mrs. Edwin Crane, Mrs. Eli Thomas have shown the utmost patience in assisting in collecting and arranging alphabetically the most important items of the lineage papers. Our books, reaching back for thirty years, have never been indexed, so a moment's thought will give an idea of the magnitude of this work.

Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. John C. Sage, Mrs. Frances Whiteside, Mrs. C. L. Dean have also given valuable assistance.

If errors have crept in, we ask to be notified, and hope it may be corrected later by adding a page.

The list of former members of the chapter, while incomplete, is added, hoping that the papers, which are always retained, may be of interest to relatives and descendants who are interested in genealogical research.

MRS. JOSEPH M. HIGH, Chairman.
